

WAREHOUSE, SUPPLY CHAIN, LOGISTICS

Warehouses and depots are high potential zones for pest activity. The production and storage of a variety of goods and high volumes of goods constantly moving in and out leads to frequent pest infestation and contamination that's often irreversible impacting efficiency and margins.

KNOW YOUR INDUSTRY PEST

Cockroach Management Services

Cartons stored for longer time due to FIFO dispatches result in infestation of ants and cockroaches causing damage and contamination of stored products especially food items.

Fly Management Services

Frequent opening of dock doors creates a unique challenge for your business to keep flies at bay, resulting in presence of flies on packing and end goods, drastically impacting product quality.

Rodent Management Services

Rats create a constant nuisance in many production establishments and storage warehouses of food, clothing, paper, and furniture. Rodents not only chew through packaging products but also contaminate the stored goods with droppings and urine.

Bird Management Services

The mere presence of birds can be a cause of audit failures or inspections, leading to shutdowns and revenue losses. They transmit over 60 diseases while compromising the air quality and causing serious health and safety concerns.
